PSC APPROVES SALE OF ASSETS

JEFFERSON CITY---The Missouri Public Service Commission has approved an application filed by Aquila, Inc. seeking Commission authority to sell a section of transmission line to KAMO Electric Cooperative, Inc. The six-mile 69kV transmission line is located in Barton County near Lamar, Missouri. According to the application, KAMO sought to purchase the line in order to provide voltage support to KAMO customers in the Lamar area and City of Lamar.

On October 11, 2005, the PSC Staff filed memorandum with the Commission indicating that it had reviewed the application and concluded that the transaction would not be detrimental to the public interest.

The Commission has reviewed the application as well as the PSC Staff recommendation. "The Commission finds that the proposed transfer of assets will have no adverse effect on the customers of Aquila. The Commission finds that the transaction is not detrimental to the public interest and shall be approved," the Commission's order said.
